

Network Installation - Keelings

Client: Keelings

McKeon Group install and maintain a network of Outdoor Point to Point Wireless links for Keelings Fruit at their Campus in North County Dublin. Our Telecommunications division provide Keelings with a turnkey solution from Design, Installation, Testing and maintenance on all their outdoor wireless links. These wireless links are used to connect remote offices, warehouses and outhouses to the main Keelings network. The links carry data, voice and control information for Keelings own irrigation and feeding systems. Keelings have also moved to a fully IP based telephone system meaning that once we install a wireless IP link to any of their new sites, nothing else is required to provide a complete connection to Keelings HQ. Saving on the time and cost involved with laying copper or fibre cables.
